Hi Zak,

Thank you for your call last week and your follow up email. I have talked with Mr Johnson and have confirmed his correspondence with Kate O'Connell. What I can tell you is that sometimes things are extremely busy and certain subjects don't always get the amount attention that they deserve. In this case we did not pay the attention that we should have, primarily because we don't source or sell shrimp from Mexico. After a more thorough read through of the information we have no problem pledging our support of the Boycott Mexican Shrimp campaign.

Please let me know if there is anything else we can do.

Best,

Tom Worthington
